

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PIC?

Captain Obvious: Do you hear something?

Our ships are outfitted with Air Flow Alarms in spaces where airflow is gasp critical. Spaces such as HAZMAT or paint lockers can present a hazard to health if Air Flow is not adequate. Shown are three separate Air Flow alarms on three separate ships that are either being ignored or have had the audible portion disabled (speaker removed).

It should be obvious why this is a bad idea.
